Taster workshops with Paper-rose

Paper-rose is a unique business running handmade wedding workshops across the UK. We are really excited to now have a selection of taster workshops available to run at wedding fairs, and wedding venue events. DIY weddings are a developing trend and our workshops are a draw for any event. Taster workshops are short quick workshops to give inspiration and basic DIY skills to those planning a wedding. All our workshops are devised and taught by professional artists with years of experience. A basic skill will be taught along with any tip to get that professional finish. Participants will leave with a finished product and the confidence to be able to continue making at home.
